Fall 1982 Registration Issue

The Staff of *ESS says . . . .

Welcome to UNO

*It's going to be a great semester — and the services offered by the *Division of Educational and Student Services can help.*

The Division of Educational and Student Services (ESS) is concerned about the development of students. The mission of those units which comprise ESS is to provide numerous opportunities, services, and activities that augment students' classroom experiences. Dr. Richard Hoover, Vice Chancellor for Educational and Student Services, has the administrative responsibility for ESS. The five major units are described below.

For more information regarding ESS programs contact
Vice Chancellor Richard Hoover
Eppley Administration Building 211, 554-2779

AUDIO-VISUAL SERVICES

The Audio-Visual Department assists the University in instruction and the communication of ideas. Many of the services are also available to individual students and to student organizations on a cost basis. The Audio-Visual Department provides services in graphic arts, photography, and AV equipment. For detailed information go to Room 108, Eppley Administration Building, 554-2215.

CAMPUS RECREATION

Campus Recreation offers a wide variety of recreational and sport activities to UNO students, faculty and staff, and their families. Major programs include: Open Recreation, Intramurals, Co-recreational Sports, Sport Clubs, Outdoor Venture Center, Children's Excursions, and other special events. The Campus Recreation Office is located in the HPER Building, Room 100. For more information you may call 554-2539 (Campus Recreation Hot Line) or 554-2258.

MILO BAIL STUDENT CENTER

Most social activities on the campus center around the Milo Bail Student Center (MBSC). The MBSC features a game room, bookstore, lounges, cafeterias, snack areas, private dining areas, student organization and service areas, and a television lounge. The MBSC administrative offices are located on the second floor.

The STUDENT ACTIVITIES OFFICE plans many of the extracurricular activities on the campus. The HOUSING OFFICE — assists students in locating suitable housing in the Omaha area. The TRAVEL CENTER offers foreign and domestic travel, study tours and information regarding foreign travel, and study programs. The INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ADVISOR provides guidance and advice to individual foreign students on concerns related to finances, academic matters, immigration and other matters.

STUDENT ACADEMIC SERVICES

ADMISSIONS

Eppley 103 — 554-2393

The Office of Admissions receives application materials, test scores, and academic transcripts for all entering students. Credit evaluations are initiated for all advanced standing credits brought to the University. A residency determination (tuition purposes) is made by the Admissions Office for all new and readmitted students.

FINANCIAL AID Eppley 103 — 554-2327

The Financial Aid Office provides scholarships, grants, loans, deferred payment, and part-time employment to help students through the financial burden of attending college. A Financial Aid Form (FAF) must be submitted by all students applying for aid on the basis of need. These forms are available in the Financial Aid Office. There is a limited amount of financial aid available for each academic year. Therefore, priority will be given to those whose FAF has been processed and received by the Financial Aid Office by April 1st.

REGISTRATION & RECORDS Eppley 105 — 554-2314

The Registrar's Office houses all permanent student academic files including official copies of high school and college transcripts as well as the official posting of all grades awarded at UNO. Course 'drop and add' as well as complete withdrawal from classes is processed by this office. Students who need to have their university records changed, such as college, major, name, or address can have these changes made in the Registrar's office.

VETERANS AFFAIRS MBSC 124 — 554-2405

Veterans, active duty personnel, and dependents of veterans eligible for V.A. benefits should contact the Veterans Affairs Office for applications and information. A UNO Veterans Handbook is also available from this office.

STUDENT DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

CAREER DEVELOPMENT CENTER

Eppley 115 — 554-2409

The Career Development Center assists students, faculty, and alumni in exploring career alternatives and making career decisions. Individual career counseling, workshops, vocational testing and test interpretations are available through the Career Development Center.

CAREER PLACEMENT SERVICES

Eppley 111 — 554-2333

Career Placement Services assists undergraduate, graduate candidates, and alumni from all Colleges of the University in their search for career employment. Job-Readiness Workshops are offered each semester to help students develop interviewing skills and resume development.

COUNSELING CENTER

Eppley 115 — 554-2409

Counseling services are provided to assist UNO students in their educational, emotional, personal and social development. Professionally trained and experienced counselors are available in a private and confidential office setting. The Counseling Center sponsors workshops on Study Skills Development, Assertiveness, Stress Reduction, and Test Taking Strategies.

ORIENTATION

Eppley 117 — 554-2677

An orientation program is provided for entering freshmen and transfer students who plan to enroll in on-campus classes at UNO. The purpose of the orientation program is to acquaint new students with the University, its programs, and services as well as to provide assistance with academic advising and registration.

PART-TIME STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

Eppley 111 — 554-2885

Employment counselors are available to assist students in finding off-campus part-time employment — matching the job with career interest where possible. All services are free. Current listings of available jobs are posted on bulletin boards near Room 134 in the Milo Bail Student Center and near Room 111 in the Eppley Building.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Eppley 117 — 554-2248

The office of Special Programs coordinates several service units which function to assist UNO students with their special needs.

Handicapped Services — This service provides counseling to handicapped students as well as a forum to discuss and initiate needed services for the students. An advisory committee assists the University in providing a more conducive environment for handicapped students.

Learning Resource Center — Eppley 117 — 554-2248. The Learning Resource Center offers a variety of academic support skills designed to aid all students. All services are free to UNO students and include: study strategies, speed reading, tutoring, assistance with term papers, study groups, and test review sessions.

Minority Affairs — The Office of Minority Affairs disseminates information necessary in the coordination of activities involved with the minority student population and minority student special interest groups — American Indians United, Black Liberators for Action on Campus, Hispanic Student Organization, and United Minority Students.

Student Health Services

Milo Bail Student Center 132 — 554-2374

Student Health Services provides free consultation, diagnosis, treatment, health counseling and follow-up care concerning health problems. Programs and seminars on health related topics are also provided during the year. First aid treatment for all minor and emergency accidents is available with referrals when necessary. A Physician's Assistant and a Registered Nurse are on duty Monday-Thursday, 8:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. and Friday 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m.

Women's Services — The function of this special program is the coordination of programs and services which focus on the educational, social, and professional needs of women students, faculty, and staff at UNO.

TESTING CENTER

Eppley 113 — 554-2409

A variety of testing services are available through the Testing Center. Aptitude, interest and psychological tests are administered on a daily basis upon recommendation of UNO Counseling Center personnel. The ACT, GMAT, GRE, LSAT, TOEFL, CLEP, and other exams are also scheduled during the year. Students should contact the Testing Center for test registration information.

UNIVERSITY DIVISION

Eppley 115 — 554-2409

The University Division provides a setting in which the student who has not yet made a definite choice as to a major or career is free to take an exploratory program of studies. A one credit hour Academic and Career Development course is required of all University Division freshmen. It is expected that by the time sophomore standing has been earned, the student will have chosen and transferred to the selected college.

Aid cuts may hurt VAO

Further reductions in federal aid money for the Veterans Affairs Office at UNO may signal its demise, according to Donald Engelage, assistant coordinator of the office.

Engelage said that the amount of money received in grants from the Department of Education is dependent upon the funds available and the number of students receiving veterans educational benefits.

The number of UNO students receiving benefits has declined along with the amount of funds available to the Department of Education, resulting in the gloomy prospect of the office closing, said Engelage.

Engelage said he has faced that prospect before, however. "Each year they say it's the last year," he said.

The number of UNO students receiving veterans benefits has declined from 8,000 to 4,000 four years ago to 1,100 last spring, according to Engelage. As a result, grant money has been reduced from about $30,000 four years ago to about $12,000 this year, he said.

If the VAO is dissolved, most of the services it provides, such as the counseling and tutorial services, would probably be transferred to the financial aid department and/or the registrar's office, said Engelage.

Some of the VAO's functions would most likely be cut out entirely, he said. The full-time coordinator position would be eliminated, he said. Also, much of the office's educational activities aimed at increasing awareness of the eligibility requirements would be eliminated. Some of the grant money received had been specifically earmarked for that purpose, explained Engelage.

"Those individuals who have spent some time in the service know pretty much what they're eligible for," said Engelage. "But there are people, other than veterans, who are eligible for these benefits that don't know it," he added.

The four other categories of people eligible for benefits are: veterans receiving the pre-1977 G.I. Bill benefits, post-1977 veterans with matching government funds, active-duty personnel taking some courses, and "bootstrappers," those active-duty personnel who take a year off from the service to attend school.

The majority of those at UNO are receiving benefits under the original G.I. Bill. The biggest decline in recipients has been in the number of personnel in the bootstrap program, said Engelage.

Some of those unaware that they may be eligible for benefits include spouses and dependents of deceased personnel, and veterans with a dishonorable discharge.

Engelage said that the VAO has handled several cases of dishonorably discharged veterans who have received an upgrading of their discharges to a general discharge, thereby making them eligible for benefits.

Registration tips save time, avoid hassles

Registering for fall semester courses has been simplified through the use of student entry tickets, according to William Gerbracht, associate registrar.

The entry tickets are issued to students through the mail within two weeks before registration. The tickets specify the time and date when students are to register.

Students must present an entry ticket and a complete registration packet signed by a counselor before they can register, said Gerbracht.

Counselors will be available at registration to sign the registration packets, he said. Gerbracht added that students who have lost their entry tickets may still register.

If the students come to registration at the proper date and time specified in the class schedule booklet, they will receive a duplicate ticket at the entry point, he said.

"The entry ticket has helped immeasurably," said Gerbracht. "There is a smooth, standard flow of people. It has eliminated the mass of people arriving at dawn on the first day (of registration)."

Gerbracht said orientation leaders will be available to help any students. Students experiencing scheduling problems because of closed classes would "do well to go to that table for assistance," he said.

Jim Hatcher, of Veterans Services, said all veterans and active-duty military personnel should report to the veterans table at registration, located between the fee assessment and cashiering tables.

"We have to look at their packets and have an advisor sign them," he said. "We need to verify their hours."

Once students have acquired all the appropriate course cards and paid their tuition fees, it's clear sailing out the door and to the bookstore. Students should keep in mind, however, that all registration materials must be turned in at the last check point or they are not officially registered.

Another item of note is that funds for the National Direct Student Loan, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants, and College Work Study programs have not yet been received at the financial aids office.

Bob Pike, director of financial aids, said that he is confident that the funds will be received sometime during the semester. Meanwhile, students who have received letters promising them financial aid under these programs will be able to qualify for deferred tuition status.

'Gimme Shelter': UNO office aids home search

Looking for a home while you're looking for a class card in advanced biology could make things doubly difficult this week.

Housing near UNO is not always readily available. So where do you turn? No, not to a cardboard box, but instead to the UNO housing office in the Milo Bail Student Center's administrative offices. The offices are located in the northeast corner of the second floor of the Student Center.

There are usually apartments available in the Dundee area (centered at 50th and Underwood Streets), according to Micaela O'Connor, housing assistant at the Student Housing office. There are also apartments available at the Cross Winds, 929 S. 70th Plaza, and the Capitol Court, 7070 Capitol Court, apartment complexes.

The Student Housing office provides listings for major apartment complexes as well as sleeping rooms, small apartment houses, houses and duplexes, said O'Connor. The housing office currently has about 200 listings.

Many of the sleeping rooms are located in the Dundee area, said O'Connor. A sleeping room is usually located in a private home, with the landlord allowing tenants to use a bedroom.

Washers, driers, and refrigerators are often shared by those living in the house, she said. The monthly rent for a sleeping room runs between $90 and $180 per month, O'Connor said.

Studio and efficiency apartments are the next least expensive, said O'Connor, costing anywhere from $185 to $225. They usually consist of a kitchen and a living room.

A one-bedroom efficiency apartment in a privately-owned building, such as a house converted into an apartment building, will cost between $185 and $230, which compares to the $230-$280 you would pay at a large complex.

Two-bedroom apartments in privately-owned buildings cost between $280 to $300, O'Connor said. Large complexes would charge between $300 and $350.

The Student Housing office does not receive many requests for two-bedroom apartments in large complexes. "That's our slowest department," said O'Connor. "Duplexes and houses go really quickly."

A three-bedroom house costs between $450 and $600, she said. A three-bedroom duplex costs between $325 and $400.

Career specialist helps 'panicky' students

It's registration time again. Are you in the right line? If you have any doubts about your career decisions, maybe you ought to drop in at the UNO Career Development Center, located in the Eppley Administration Building, room 115.

The Career Development Center offers individual planning, counseling and vocational assessment for students, alumni, faculty and staff, explained Lois Deily, career development specialist. The center's staff tries to provide its clients with information upon which to base career decisions.

According to Deily, the weeks preceding the start of each semester are the busiest for the center. "All of a sudden students start getting panicky. They aren't sure what they want to do with their lives, so they come to us," she said.

The center's services begin with an initial interview with a counselor, often followed by testing to determine vocational interests and aptitude, said Deily. The tests are administered by the university's testing center, which shares offices with Career Development, and then interpreted for the student by a career counselor.

There is a "very minimal" charge, "$1 or $2 on some of the tests that have to be sent away to be computer scored," said Deily. Otherwise, there is no charge for the counseling service.

The center also sponsors at least two workshops every semester, said Deily. The workshops consist of various self-evaluation and job-exploration activities, as well as work in developing decision-making, resume writing, and interview skills, she said.

The workshops typically consist of 10 hours divided into five sessions, said Deily. "There'll be one (workshop) in the early evening hours and one during the daytime," she said. However, the dates for the workshops have not yet been decided.

There is a slight charge for the workshops to cover the cost of materials used, she added.

Students are also encouraged to use the center's library for information on various professions and courses of study. An individual using the library's resources can get an "idea of what a given job involves and also the job prospects," said Deily.

For example, career prospects look good for "anything in the computer science field," said Deily. Prospects in accounting also look promising, although employers seem to be looking for the graduates with higher grade point averages, she said.

"Statistics we have from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics indicate that almost anything in the health professions is going to be good for the next 10 years," Deily added. "That's anything from nurses' aides up to physicians and hospital administrators."

Deily said that fields like engineering and technology also look good, but that indications are that the demand for applicants in such fields seems to be dropping off. She said the outlook is bleak for careers in teaching and social services, but that in any case, the proper educational background is extremely important.

Education, work experience and career planning are the keys to a successful career, she said, adding that it is also a good idea to have a back-up plan.

Because of the overall tight job market, "no matter what field you go in to, it might be good to have a plan 'B,'" Deily said. "For instance, if you've planned a career in teaching and now you're finding that there just aren't any teaching jobs available, maybe if you had some business courses built into your program of study you would have a few more alternatives," she said.

The services of the Career Development Center are available to all students, alumni, faculty and staff from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. The center also will be open one night per week, but which night hasn't yet been decided, said Deily.

Appointments are preferable, but students coming in on a walk-in basis are also welcome, said Deily, who added that she plans to have a graduate student assistant working with her on a part-time basis.

Deily also started at the Career Development Center as a graduate assistant. She served as the assistant to specialist Dorothy Graham during the 1981 academic year. Graham left the university to accept a similar position with Mutual of Omaha.

Deily received a master's degree in guidance and counseling at UNO last spring.

CLIMB THE LETTERS TO SUCCESS.

Success is a long way up. But after taking the first step, the second one comes easier.

Air Force ROTC can help you climb that ladder by providing a helping hand during college. It can enrich your college years and also help you with some of those school expenses at the same time.

You can compete for a two, three or four-year scholarship that pays $100 a month for college expenses, while it picks up the tab for all tuition, lab fees and books.

The AFROTC program has many extras. Like the Flight Instruction Program (FIP), where you qualify for Air Force flight training through a screening process and receive introductory flight instruction. You'll also learn about leadership, management; Air Force history and traditions, and much more through AFROTC. The program prepares cadets to take command after they graduate and are commissioned as Air Force officers.

The list goes on. Check it out today. See if you can climb the letters to success and meet the challenge and accept the commitment. You'll find that the Air Force is a great way to serve your country, and that AFROTC is a great way to get there from here.

Fees fund UNO Student Government

When you pull out your checkbook to pay for tuition, you might not realize that you are helping to fund a $180,000 organization.

Each semester a $43 student fee is collected from all full-time students ($25 for part-time students). Of this, $7.50 goes for the operation of Student Government at UNO.

This portion of the student fee is called Fund A. The Gateway and the Student Programming Organization also receive Fund A monies.

The hierarchy of Student Government, located in the Milo Bail Student Center, resembles our own national government. There is an executive branch, a legislative body, and a judicial system.

The Student Senate is the legislative body for Student Government. Senate meetings are held every other Thursday and are open to the public.

Representation

There are 32 seats on the senate. Each college is represented according to the number of students enrolled.

For example, the Colleges of Arts and Sciences and Business Administration have four senators each, while both the Colleges of Fine Arts and Home Economics have only one.

Being the legislative branch of Student Government, the senate makes the rules and allocates money from Fund A.

The Student Activities Budget Committee meets each year in the spring to decide how Fund A will be dispersed among the organizations in Student Government.

The agencies that are funded by Student Government are the Handicapped Students Organization, United Minority Students, International Student Services, the Women's Resource Center, and the Student Programming Organization.

SPO has the largest budget (approximately $75,000) and provides cultural and entertainment programming on campus.

Each of the agencies is headed by a director who is appointed by the senate.

Committees

Other senate subdivisions include the executive, student affairs, and rules committees.

Any executive committee action must be brought before the senate before any decision can go into effect. The committee can act in lieu of the full senate when necessary.

Student affairs is a "good" committee because it provides freedom to deal with issues, according to Senate Speaker Greg Mertz.

Non-senate members can serve on the committee, which deals with issues such as parking and public relations.

Approving the constitutions of new student organizations and passing resolutions are two functions of the rules committee. Mertz described this body as a legislative body within the senate. It sets senate rules, duties of officers, and makes by-law changes.

The Inter-Agency Council was established by Jim Ward, former chief administrative officer. It is comprised of all the agency directors and members of the executive committee.

The executive branch of Student Government consists of a speaker, a chief administrative officer, a treasurer, and a recording secretary.

The speaker calls the senate meetings and presides over them. Mertz said he handles a lot of paper work dealing with resolutions and appointments to the senate.

CAO

The chief administrative officer appoints people to university committees. These committees include faculty, staff, administrators and students.

The chief administrative officer also heads the committee which appoints students to the senate when seats are vacated. This person also presides over Inter-Agency Council meetings, acting as a liaison during disputes.

The treasurer handles all matters concerning money. This person must keep records of spending within agencies and the disbursement of the contingency fund.

A monthly report is prepared by the treasurer to document how much has been allocated.

Langford

The president/regent is elected by the student body each October, as are senators.

Florene Langford, current holder of this position, is answerable to the senate. She must attend monthly meetings held by the NU Board of Regents and report at the senate meetings about the proceedings.

The president/regent must also inform the board of the senate's position on issues it deems important.

Matters that affect UNO in which the Nebraska State Student Association is involved are handled through the student affairs committee. The NSSA is an organization that lobbies in the Nebraska legislature for issues of student concern.

The senate makes appointments to the NSSA legislative body and board of directors. The senate also approves the allocation of $15,000 to the NSSA that is collected through student fees.

Traffic appeals court and the student court comprise the judicial system. There are five justices who serve a term of one year. One of the five is a chief justice who presides over hearings.

The student court was set up to settle inter-agency disputes usually concerning elections.

UNO offers programs via campus radio, TV

In addition to the numerous Student Government and Student Center organizations, there are two radio stations and a television station on campus.

The two radio stations, WNO and KVNO, are operated by students although KVNO has a professional manager. Station manager Frank Bramhall and his staff run KVNO out of Annex 15, and the student-run WNO broadcasts from the Student Center.

KVNO, 90.7 on the FM dial, plays classical and jazz music while WNO is a closed circuit system, and features album-oriented rock, rhythm and blues and some progressive jazz.

The university television station, KYNE, Channel 26, is affiliated with the Nebraska Educational Television Network and the Public Broadcasting System. University-related activities and subjects are aired on KYNE and student-produced programs like UNO Scene are regular features.

Students who are interested in working for either WNO or KYNE should find out from the communication department and the stations what procedures are necessary.

HPER building offers fun, education

University of Nebraska at Omaha • Fall 1982

Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. These are important items in everyone's lives, but ever since the HPER Building opened in January, 1980, the UNO community has been able to learn what Health, Physical Education, and Recreation are really all about.

The HPER Building is primarily an academic facility, but when classes are not in session, the building is still very alive. Open recreation hours are available each day in most areas of the building and a helpful staff is always on duty to answer any ques-

One of the most popular areas in the HPER Building is the pool. The pool is 50 meters in length and has two movable bulkheads to accommodate classes and swim meets. An added feature of the pool area is the adjacent sundeck, which has recently been carpeted. Several pieces of lawn furniture have also been added. There is also a seating area for 850 spectators which provides an outstanding view of the pool.

The racquetball courts are another heavily used area in the building. Open court times are available every day. There are 12 racquetball courts and two squash courts and an observation deck for spectators.

The two Activity Areas in the HPER Building attract large numbers of participants both during the evening and also during the day. Many students drop by for a between class game of basketball or just to shoot a few hoops.

Other areas open for recreation are the weight room, the elevated jogging track and the newly resurfaced and lighted outdoor tennis courts. A sauna and a steam room are available in both the men's and women's locker rooms to sweat off those extra pounds.

Every UNO student who possesses a current student ID card is eligible to use the HPER Building. The student ID card is (continued on page 4)

Kaminski is new assistant at Campus Recreation

Joe Kaminski of Cheektowaga, New York, has been named Assistant Coordinator of Campus Recreation at UNO. Joe served as a Graduate Assistant for Campus Recreation for two years before accepting the post as Assistant Coordinator.

Before coming to UNO, Kaminski attended the College of Wooster in Wooster, Ohio, where he served as Student Director of Men's Intramurals from 1977-1979.

Kaminski's responsibilities as Assistant Coordinator of Campus Recreation will be in the areas of Sports Clubs and Building Operations. Joe will be the Director of all of UNO's Sports Clubs which currently include Soccer, Aquatics, Martial Arts, and Gymnastics.

Kaminski has several goals which he would like to see accomplished during the upcoming year. "I would like to see the student body take advantage of the opportunities that currently exist within the Sports Club program at UNO. There is also room for growth in this area, which would include new Sports Clubs and the formation of a Sports Clubs Council."

Alumni game set for Aug. 28

Maverick kickers await fall season

The UNO Soccer Club will start their season this year Aug. 28 with their annual Alumni Game.

Coach Pete Kassay-Farkas has many returning players from last year's team ready to take the field. The Maverick kickers compete in the Northern States Soccer Association and will be out to improve on last year's second place finish.

On Sept. 4 and 5, the Mavericks will compete in the Concordia Invitational in Seward, Neb. Other highlights of the schedule will be games against conference foes South Dakota, Augustana and Dordt College. UNO will also have their annual game against UNL on Sept. 26 in Bellevue. The Mayors Cup game against Creighton will be played at UNO on Oct. 21.

For the first time this year, UNO will field a women's soccer team. The Lady Mavs will play Northwest Missouri State on Oct. 16 and Creighton on Oct. 21.

Admission to all UNO home games is free with a UNO ID card. Come on out and catch the Maverick kickers in action!

Club hones officials' skills

"Fourth and two," "Strike three," "Side out." These are familiar words heard throughout the year during intramural events at UNO. The individuals shouting out these commands prefer to be called officials, although other descriptions are often heard during heated competition.

Many of these officials learned their appropriate skills as members of the UNO Officials Club. Although only a year old, the club has helped train many quality officials for the university's numerous intramural activities. The club also provides a referral service for officials seeking to secure job opportunities outside the university.

The UNO Officials Club is dedicated to upgrading the quality of its officials. It also provides an opportunity to establish comradery within intramurals and to develop and improve one's personal officiating technique.

The UNO Officials Club provides many extra advantages to its members. All active members in the club receive a discount on officiating gear at a local sporting goods store, a club patch and an intramural officials jersey. Each member will also have access to the club's job referral service, which has provided many job opportunities for members in the past.

The first meeting of the year will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 31 at noon in Room 221, HPER. For more information on the club contact the club president, Keith Foster, at 558-1544 or Dan Wax, Assistant Coordinator of Campus Recreation at 554-2539.

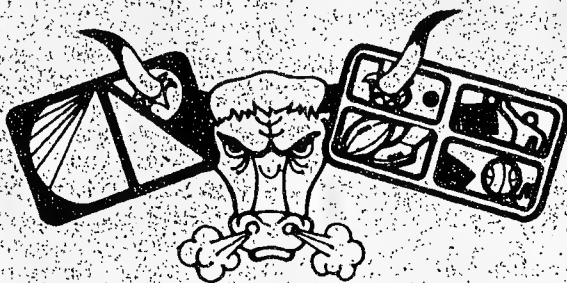

See you there and get ready to wet your whistle!

Aqua notes

The Fall semester of 1982 will again be highlighted by a full range of activities in the HPER pool. Instructional programs will be offered for students as well as their families. The Learn to Swim Program will serve the children of students, faculty and staff members. This program has been warmly received by the University community and has proven to be an excellent method of teaching youngsters to be safe in and about the water.

Faculty and staff will again have the opportunity to improve their swimming skills this semester. Along with the Faculty/Staff lessons, the Aerobic and Anaerobic Exercises in Aquatics class will again be offered during the fall term. This class is geared for those who have had past competitive experience and would like additional help with stroke techniques and various methods of training.

Starting Sept. 27, the Maverick Aquatics Club will again take to the water to improve on last year's performances. If you are interested in joining this fast growing club, stop by the Campus Recreation Office and get more information.

Fall Special events

The Special Events calendar gets underway on Sept. 1, with the First Annual HPER Mini Golf Course, the Golf, Fencing, and Archery Lab will be transferred on that day into a deluxe mini golf course that will be a challenge for even the best putters. You'd better get out your clubs and start practicing now.

The HPER Building will stay open until midnight on Friday, Sept. 10, for the Fall Semester Friday Frolic. This night will be highlighted by special games and activities as well as open recreation.

On Oct. 8 and 9, a Wallyball Tournament will be held on the HPER racquetball courts. Wallyball rules and entry forms can be obtained from the Campus Recreation office.

The Fourth Annual Campus Recreation Turkey Trot will take place this year on Saturday, Nov. 13. This 5,000 meter race has become one of the most popular fall races in the city and it will be open to anyone who wishes to run.

The final Special Event of the fall semester is the Free Throw Contest which will take place on Dec. 1 from 11 a.m. - 1 p.m. Stop by the HPER Building on your lunch hour and try to win a t-shirt.

The UNO Health, Physical Education, and Recreation building has something to offer for everyone. Stop by and see what is on the schedule for this semester.

Fun, learning await students at HPER

Married students are welcome to purchase Activity Cards for their spouses. These will allow them to participate in the HPER Building whenever they want. Each student may also bring up to two guests at a time during Guest Hours for a $2.00 fee per person.

A student ID or Activity Card also permits use of the Outdoor Venture Center which is located in Room 100 E. A wide variety of camping and cross country skiing equipment is available to be checked out for a nominal fee. The OVC also provides information on local campgrounds and sponsors several trips throughout the year.

The Campus Recreation office is located in Room 100 in the HPER Building. All guest passes and spouse IDs can be obtained at this location. The lost and found department of the HPER Building is also located in the Campus Recreation office.

If you are interested in participating in intramurals this semester, rules for each intramural sport are available in the reading rack located just inside the front entrance of the HPER Building. Other information concerning the HPER Building is also available in the reading rack.

The Health, Physical Education, and Recreation Building has something to offer for everyone. Come to HPER and get involved!

Sport is gaining popularity

Wallyball tourney debuts at UNO in fall

The first Annual Wallyball Tournament at UNO will be held on Oct. 8 and 9 in the racquetball courts of the HPER Building. According to Intramural Director Dan Wax, wallyball is gaining popularity at other colleges and universities. He is expecting the same response at UNO.

Wallyball, as the name implies, is volleyball played on a racquetball court. A net is placed across the middle of the racquetball court and two teams of three to four players position themselves on opposite sides of the net.

Play is started by one team serving the ball off the wall or directly over the net to the other team. Play is continuous with teams volleying for points. The scoring system is the same as volleyball.

Along with the tournament, an intramural wallyball league will be forming in the Spring semester. So remember — it's never too early to get your teams together or stop by the Campus Recreation office and get placed on a team.

As our local Godfather would say — "DO IT!"

Local theaters need actors for fall plays

Three local theater companies are planning auditions for upcoming plays.

The Nebraska Theater Caravan, a professional touring company sponsored by the Omaha Community Playhouse, will hold auditions Aug. 21 for two companies of "A Christmas Carol."

About 70 performers, technicians and musicians are needed. Most roles require singing and dancing.

Auditions will be held by appointment only at the Omaha Community Playhouse, 6915 Cass St. Call Debra Fox, 553-4890, for an appointment or more information.

The Center Stage, 3010 R St., will hold auditions for "Streamers" a drama about the Vietnam war, on Aug. 30 and 31 at 7 p.m.

Artistic Director Bill Davis needs 11 men of different ages and races for the play.

For more information, call the Center Stage business office, 444-6199.

The Emmy Gifford Children's Theater, 3504 Center St., will hold adult auditions for "The Little Match Girl" Sept. 26 at 7 p.m.

People auditioning should have a prepared song and be ready to dance.

For more information, call 397-3090.

Student Center services . . .

double burger, fish, chicken, hot dog or chili dog.) Home-style soup and assorted desserts are also available.

The Continental Dining Room, on the west side of the second floor, offers a lunch menu of large or small salad bar, submarine sandwiches, barbeque pork sandwiches, home-style soup, desserts and beverages.

The Maverick Dining Room, in the middle of the second floor, offers breakfast foods in the morning and fast food items such as hamburgers, cheeseburgers, hot dogs, fried chicken, chili, soup, french fries, salad, chef's salad, desserts, and beverages the remainder of the day.

The Nebraska Dining Room, located in the southwest corner on the second floor, serves tacos, barbeque pork sandwich and a lunch casserole each day. In addition, it offers salad, soup, vegetables, fruit, yogurt, desserts and beverages.

Lounges and vending areas

The Student Center has two TV lounges on the first floor. A vending area surrounds the north lounge. The machines contain soup, chips, ice cream, candy, other dessert items and cigarettes. The lounge also contains a microwave oven.

When available, the ballroom on the second floor can be used as a lounge, study area or a place to practice on the room's piano.

Bookstore

Textbooks and supplies necessary for classes are sold in the bookstore on the first floor. The store also sells shirts, shorts and other UNO paraphernalia, greeting cards, magazines, paperbacks, calendars, nylons, candy, chips and cigarettes. The bookstore accepts Mastercard or BankAmericard.

University services

Student Health provides outpatient medical care and emergency first aid to those attending UNO. Located on the east wall on the first floor, the medical staff performs throat cultures, Pap tests, blood tests, blood pressure checks, and tuberculosis screens. They treat sprains and minor lacerations, and provide some counseling. The office is open 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday.

The Housing Center, in room 250, offers a listing of off-campus apartments, sleeping rooms and houses for rent.

The Women's Resource Center, located on the northeast corner of the third floor, contains a resource file for research, a library, referral files, and detailed information on day care centers. The center offers support groups and workshops throughout the year.

The foreign student advisor in the International Student Advisors Office, room 250, takes care of all paperwork with foreign students.

The Employment Bulletin board, located on the first floor adjacent to student health, lists job openings on the campus and in the community.

Meeting rooms are located on the third floor. Campus organizations can reserve these rooms with Central Scheduling in room 250.

How to get good grades and other fine things

(Almost) everything you need to know at UNO

This is the second Gateway Guide to Campus Survival (the first one appeared June 18, 1982). Use the guide to help you find the services you need quicker.

Fast cash

You can write and cash personal checks (up to $15) at two locations: cashiering, first floor, Eppley Administration Building; and the games desk, first floor, Milo Ball Student Center.

Cashiering is open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The games desk will cash checks from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and from 4:30 to 7 p.m.

An Automatic Teller Machine is available on the first floor of the student center, next to the games desk. If you have a bank card from a participating bank (a list is by the machine), you can make deposits and withdrawals any time the Student Center is open.

Good grades

Is your usual case of math anxiety turning into math panic? Do you really need to study how to study? Or are you just looking for a quiet place to study?

The Learning Resource Center, Eppley 117, is the place to go for help. According to Judy Harrington, director of the center, both individual and group tutoring is available. A quiet study room, help with study skills, proofreading and help with term papers are also offered.

A special service available for Spanish and psychology students is the Supplemental Review Session program. Tutors from the center attend classes, take notes and keep up with the reading. They then hold group sessions reviewing both course concepts and study skills.

Students who want to use the quiet study area can drop into Eppley 117; students who need tutoring must make an appointment first.

Quiet, please

The Library is open seven days a week for research and quiet study. (A complete silence rule on the third floor will be enforced starting Aug. 23.)

Regular Library hours are as follows:

Monday through Thursday: 7 a.m. to 11 p.m.; Friday: 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Saturday: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Sunday: 1 to 9 p.m.

Emotional rescue

If you have been undergoing stress that isn't merely caused by registration and personal problems, or need academic advice, the Counseling Center, Eppley 115, may be able to help you.

According to Rusty Crawford, coordinator of counseling development, the center offers personal, academic and career counseling free of charge to UNO students, faculty and staff. All counseling is confidential.

Appointments are not needed, though Crawford said they might be helpful. For an appointment or more information about services, call 554-2505.

Copy cats

Are you tired of feeding nickels to a copy machine all day when you need copies of a term paper? Do you want a hundred copies of your resume — fast?

Printing and Duplicating Services, Eppley 104, is available to do it for you. Quick copies are five cents a page.

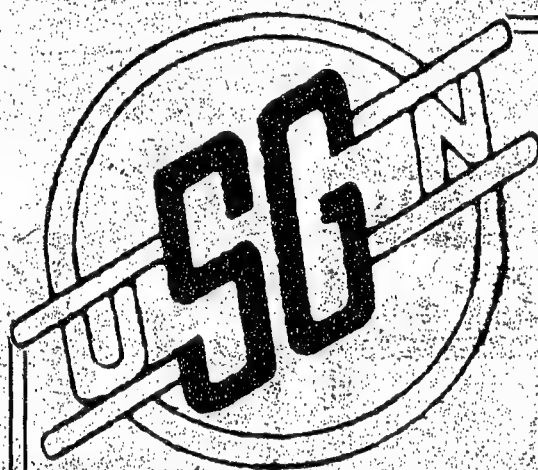

Manager Judie Reis said other printing services are available at varying costs, depending on the type of job and number of copies needed. Reis suggested that people needing anything other than quick copy should bring in their copy and get an estimate.

Odds and ends

If you are tired of dragging all your worldly goods from one end of campus to another, rent a locker in the Engineering Building. Two dollars will get you a locker for the fall semester. For more information, call the bookstore, 554-2336.

Need to call an instructor or an office on campus while you're here? Save yourself a dime and use the black on-campus phones. Dial the last four digits of the on-campus number.

If you need to know where something else which this article didn't cover can be found, call Information, 554-2800, or pick up the Information Hot Line — red phones with the direct line to Information.

Parking less of a hassle if you know the rules

Parking. The mere mention of the word in association with the UNO campus draws moans and groans from just about everyone who knows about the perennial parking problem.

UNO parking is probably one of the most talked about, written about and complained about subjects on this campus. If you've read the Gateway and World-Herald coverage, you know about high-rises, land acquisition, and the battle between Frances Batt and the UNO administration.

Get informed

Much of the attention focused on the parking dilemma at UNO is overblown, but there is a problem. Part of the problem rests with an uninformed student population and a smaller percentage of the blame belongs to a handful of students who don't follow the rules.

Although Campus Security publishes a comprehensive guide to parking regulations, many students either don't know it exists or don't read it. If one plans to attend this university, the parking situation soon will become apparent and being informed is one way to head off problems before they start.

Permits

The best way to avoid getting a parking ticket on campus is to purchase a parking permit. Although the parking permit will not guarantee you a space, it is necessary if you plan to park on campus. Permits can be obtained at registration and at the Campus Security office in room 100 of the Eppley Administration Building.

For $18, students can purchase a day/night parking permit which is good for all student lots and some faculty lots after 3 p.m. For night students, $9 will get a permit which is good only at night. Both types of permits are valid for the fall, spring and summer semesters. Special permits also are available for handicapped students.

Alternatives

In addition to the student, faculty and handicapped lots, metered parking is available at a few locations for those who are on campus for short periods of time.

An alternative to buying a parking permit is to carpool. Any group of three or more individuals who wish to take turns parking can apply for carpool privileges and park in areas designated for carpooling.

For those of you who ride bicycles or motorcycles, permits are not necessary but you must park in areas marked for bikes.

One of the best ways to avoid parking at UNO at all is to avail yourself of the Ak-Sar-Ben parking lots. The lots at Ak-Sar-Ben are available for student use between 6:30 a.m. and 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday and until 6 p.m. Friday during the fall and spring semesters. UNO provides shuttle bus service to transport students to and from the Ak-Sar-Ben lots. The buses run about every 15 minutes and make stops at the Library, the Dodge Street bus stop and other locations on campus.

Tight parking

Although parking is tight, Campus Security Director Dave Castilow said parking spaces aren't as scarce as people think. Castilow said parking is the tightest between 8 and 10 a.m., but that lots clear out in the late morning and afternoon.

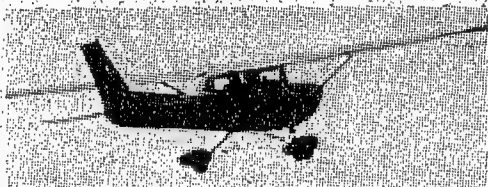

Castilow warns potential parking violators that his staff will be monitoring the parking very closely this fall, including the lots at the First Christian Church, 6630 Dodge St. Castilow said that more than 200 tickets were issued daily last semester and a number of vehicles were immobilized with Rhino Boots.

Campus Security also has a tow policy and Castilow said he will enforce it.

Campus Security also provides a number of services for students which range from jump starts to on-campus escorting.

The best way for students to become acquainted with the various rules, regulations and services of Campus Security is to pick up the 1982-83 Parking Regulations booklet at Campus Security. More information can also be obtained by calling 554-2648.

DO YOU WANT TO FLY?

Face it... you've always wanted to fly! Many of us have had the feeling... and for some it has never gone away. If you have that feeling, then you're in luck. Air Force ROTC Flight Instruction Program (FIP) is available to you. It's designed to teach you the basics of flight through flying lessons in small aircraft at a civilian operated flying school.

The program is an EXTRA for cadets who can qualify to become Air Force pilots through Air Force ROTC. Taken during the senior year in college, FIP is the first step for the cadet who is going on to Air Force jet pilot training after graduation.

This is all reserved for the cadet who wants to get his life off the ground... with Air Force silver pilot wings. Check it out today.

Meet the Maverick head coaches for 1982

Sandy Buda — Football

Sometimes a football team takes on the characteristics of its head coach. Such is the case at UNO where Sandy Buda inherited a program that rarely won and instantly turned it into a winner.

In four years Buda's teams have recorded a 28-15 record and finished in the NCAA Division II Top 15 three times, including a No. 6 ranking in 1978. Seven of his players have gone on to NFL try-outs.

Buda, a 1963 graduate of Creighton Prep, played college football at Kansas and spent eight years there as an assistant under Pepper Rodgers and Don Fambrough. In 1975, Buda moved to Kansas State as the defensive line coach under Ellis Rainsberger until returning to Omaha in 1978.

Buda's secret of success is attributed to hard work and enthusiasm which has conveyed a positive attitude to his players. Buda teams have also produced the top eight all-time attendance figures at UNO, which reflects acceptance of the Mavs by the Omaha community.

Perhaps Buda's main ingredient of success is his emphasis on "academics first with athletics a close second." Buda received his master's degree in physical education from Kansas.

Bob Hanson — Basketball

In 1969 Bob Hanson took over a floundering UNO basketball program that had compiled a 15-29 record the previous two seasons. During the next 13 seasons, UNO won 204 games while failing to win at least 10 games a season only once.

That first year, UNO won the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference championship and has since added five 17-win seasons, one 16-victory season, and a 20-9 record in 1978-79 that brought the North Central Conference championship to Omaha.

Last year the Mavs finished with a 22-7 record and were ranked in the NCAA Division II top 10 poll each week of the season, including three weeks as No. 1. Hanson's efforts earned him recognition as the NCC co-coach of the year.

Hanson has won more games, coached more games, and won more championships than any other basketball coach in UNO history. Last year marked the fifth time in eight seasons that the Mavs were invited to the NCAA national tournament.

Hanson played guard at the University of Wyoming (where he lettered for three years) and was named team captain and Most Valuable Player as a senior.

Bob Gates — Baseball

Among his many achievements, UNO baseball coach Bob Gates has won three high school state championship titles in three different sports. In 1982, Gates' UNO team went 27-15 and finished second in the North Central Conference.

During his six years as the Mavs' coach, Gates has compiled a 134-100 record, including two NCC titles in three years. Gates was also named the NCC coach of the year in 1981.

A graduate of UNL, Gates coached basketball at Holy Name from 1950 to 1961 where he finished with a 113-32 record and won three Class A state titles. Gates also coached high school teams to championships in baseball and football.

Gates served in numerous athletic positions. He was an assistant coach at UNL in baseball and basketball, and also worked for the football team as a recruiter.

Gates has also worked as a part-time scout for the Baltimore Orioles and coached American Legion baseball for 12 years.

Gates coached the Pershing College baseball team to a 83-38 record over a five-year period before his arrival at UNO in 1976.

Cherri Mankenberg — Basketball

A third consecutive North Central Conference championship capped off the Lady Mavs' 1982 basketball season. Under coach Cherri Mankenberg, now entering her sixth year at UNO, the Lady Mavs have compiled a 124-62 record.

Mankenberg also led UNO to four trips to the AIAW regionals and once to national competition. Last season the Lady Mavs were 22-6 and finished fifth in the NCAA Division II ratings.

Mankenberg attended West Morona, Iowa, High School and led her team to the state championship winning all-state and all-tournament awards along the way.

She attended Wayne State College in Nebraska, where she received her bachelor's degree in education. She earned a master's degree at the University of Northern Colorado.

Mankenberg coached five years at Spencer High School in Iowa before accepting the UNO job in 1976.

Possibly her greatest accomplishment came in 1979 when she was the first woman inducted into the Way Hall of Fame.

Intramurals

The athletic fields at UNO will be filled with students again this fall. Intramural sports and various sports clubs on campus provide those interested with the opportunity to play their favorite sports.

Campus Recreation offers various sporting activities for individuals or teams, with most beginning in September.

The deadline for signing up for tennis singles is Sept. 1. The program begins Sept. 8. First round action in racquetball singles begins Oct. 2. The deadline for signing up is Sept. 29.

To participate in the flag football series, teams must be entered by Sept. 8. The first games of the season are scheduled for Sept. 13. A flag football all-star game will be played Oct. 14.

Campus Rec will sponsor a fall softball tournament on Sept. 25. The deadline is Sept. 22.

Bowling starts Sept. 15, with the deadline for entry on Sept. 8. The final date for signing up teams for the co-ed volleyball series is Sept. 15. Games begin Sept. 20.

The opportunity for students to participate in intramurals continues throughout the fall semester. Included on the fall schedule are: badminton singles (men's and women's), indoor floor hockey, three-on-three basketball, table tennis, the commissioner's basketball tournament, a squash tournament, and wrestling.

Campus Rec activities are not restricted to UNO students (who are admitted free with their I.D. cards). Faculty and staff members are also eligible providing they purchase a Campus Rec activity card.

Professional athletes, letter winners, and inter-collegiate team members are not eligible for participation in their respective sports but can participate in other sports.

Mav athletes successful in '82; Won 66.8 percent of all games

UNO athletic squads turned in another good season in the seven major sports the school participates in. The Mav teams recorded one North Central Conference championship, five second-place finishes and only one below a .500 percentage.

Overall, UNO teams compiled a 147-66 record, good for a 66.8 percent winning average.

The Mavs also made several good showings on a national basis. The Lady Mav volleyball team finished with a 31-12 record for 1981-82, but seven of their losses were to Division I schools.

Both the women's basketball and softball teams finished the season ranked fifth in the NCAA Division II ratings. The men's basketball squad finished with a No. 9 rating, and the baseball team was ranked fourth.

Bob Condon — Women's Track

Entering his fourth year as head coach of the Lady Mav track and field program is Bob Condon. In his first three years UNO won two North Central Conference championships. Several of his cross country runners went on to national competition.

Condon broke or tied 14 school records at Olivet College in Michigan. He finished seventh in the 400 meter run in the 1976 NCAA Track Championships. His efforts earned him the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association's Most Valuable Player award for 1976.

Condon also served as a graduate assistant for the University of Miami, Ohio, while working on his master's degree. He then coached the 1976 women's track and cross country teams at Hillsdale College in Michigan.

In addition to his duties as head coach of the women's track team, Condon also teaches backpacking and physical education classes.

Janice Kruger — Volleyball

A second place finish in the North Central Conference capped off a 31-12 record for the UNO Lady Mavs volleyball team last year. Coach Janice Kruger owns a 99-43-6 record in three seasons at UNO, and her teams have made two regional tournament appearances. UNO also won the 1980 Nebraska state title under Kruger's leadership.

A native of Randolph, Neb., Kruger played volleyball for Randolph High School, where she led her team to four straight conference championships.

The 1977 graduate of UNL played three years for the varsity volleyball team and was named captain her senior year.

Following her graduation, she coached Platte Technical Community College to a 23-9 record in 1978 before taking the UNO coaching job in 1979.

Kruger received her master's degree in physical education from UNL in 1980.

Chris Miner — Softball

In her first year at UNO, head coach Chris Miner completely turned around the Lady Mavs softball team. After a 17-26 record in 1981, Miner's team finished with a 27-16 record, second in the NCAA regionals and fifth in the Division II ratings.

Miner, a standout shortstop and center fielder, won Amateur Softball Association All-American honors five times. She became one of the youngest All-Americans in history at the age of 16.

A native of Portland, Ore., Miner came to UNO after building the softball program at Long Beach (Cal.) State. In one and one-half seasons, she built the Long Beach program from scratch.

Miner graduated from UCLA with a bachelor's degree in physical education. She plans to continue work on her master's degree at UNO.

Don Patton — Men's Track

Beginning his fifth year as UNO's men's track coach is Don Patton. A graduate of Kearney State, Patton spent 10 years building a successful track program at Bellevue High School. During that time, Patton produced four state championship teams in track and field and one state title in cross country.

Patton had 13 state and gold medal individual champions, and many of them advanced to successful track careers in college.

During his tenure at UNO, many changes have come about. The outdoor track was converted to meters, and new surfaces have been put in on the long jump and pole vault along with a new high jump surface. Last year a new indoor surface was added.

In 1982, Patton led the Mavs to a second place finish in the North Central Conference, and had three All-American athletes on the squad.

by Future Stardom

"Freedom of the Press was never more fun than at the Gateway," said Roger Catlin, reviewer for The Omaha World-Herald, of his experience with the UNO student newspaper.

Many professional journalists, both local and national, have gained valuable first-hand knowledge while working at the Gateway. Such notables include: Catlin; Pulitzer Prize winner Paul Henderson, who is a reporter for the Seattle Times; World Herald staff writers Larry King, David Krajicek, and Dick Ulmer; KETV anchorperson Carol Schrader; and Omaha Sun asst. managing editor Dave Sink.

The Gateway will give hard-working student journalists

Denney's wrestlers seek another Top 10 ranking

UNO wrestling coach Mike Denney has continued to uphold UNO's tradition of a strong wrestling program. During his three years at UNO, Denney's teams have compiled a 39-15-1 record, placing in the Division II ranking each year.

In 1981, Denney led the Mavs to a 16-3 record and a third-place finish nationally. That same year Denney was named NCAA Division II Coach of the Year. Last season UNO went 13-4, good for a fourth-place national ranking.

After lettering in wrestling four years at Dakota Wesleyan, Denney went to Bryan High School in Omaha where he coached wrestling for five years.

Denney also played seven years with the old Omaha Mustangs football team, is a blackbelt in judo and teaches fitness classes at UNO.

Denney received his master's degree in physical education at UNO.

Venture out into the wild

One of the more obscure services provided by Campus Rec is the Outdoor Venture Center. This office, located to the left of the HPER building's main doors, provides outdoor recreational equipment on a rental basis.

The center has a wide variety of equipment available for use, providing most of the equipment needed for outdoor recreational activities. From tents and sleeping bags to toboggans, the center even rents golf clubs.

While the main purpose of the center is to outfit would-be campers and adventurers with equipment, the staff also plans a series of seminars and workshops to educate novice outdoorsmen with practical knowledge for using equipment.

The staff also helps plan individual trips in such varied areas as camping and skiing. They also help to bring people with similar interests together.

In the future, the center's staff will introduce planned excursions for interested students. Currently there have been no formal announcements of forthcoming trips, but the center anticipates everything from day excursions to mountaineering expeditions.

Use of the Outdoor Venture Center is available to all UNO students and faculty members who have a valid HPER card. They also request a second I.D. and a $20 deposit on all borrowed items.

OUTDOOR VENTURE CENTER HOURS

Monday ..... 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Thursday ..... 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.
Friday ..... 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Intramurals

Many people overlook the intramural officials program. All officials are provided by Campus Rec, which sponsors workshops to train referees for intramural games.

Officials are needed in football, volleyball, basketball, softball and indoor hockey. No experience is necessary, and all officials are paid. The first clinic begins Sept. 12. Referees must sign up for the clinic before Sept. 8 at room 102 of the HPER building.

Several clubs are organized around sports that students express a particular interest in. UNO has sports clubs in soccer, gymnastics, aquatics, and martial arts. The ground work for a racketball club is being laid. The soccer and aquatics clubs plan to schedule dual meets with other schools this fall.

Members of athletics clubs are allowed to participate in the intramurals program as well. According to intramural guidelines, a maximum of three club members may be on the same intramural team providing it is in the same sport their club is playing.

HPER news . . .

UNO's Health, Physical, Education and Recreation building is an active place. When classes are not in session the HPER building's raquetball courts, pool and basketball courts are bustling with activity.

Open recreation hours are available every day at the HPER building for students and their guests. The building's hours are 6:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 6:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday; 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday; and noon to 8 p.m. on Sunday.

Students and their spouses can purchase a Campus Recreation activity card for $7.50 with proof of marriage (a check-book or driver's license) and their spouse's current I.D. card.

With an I.D. card, students may sponsor two guests during posted guest hours. Special guest dates run from Nov. 19-24, Dec. 10-22 and Jan. 3-9. The fee for each guest is $2.

Lockers can be reserved for a $5 refundable deposit along with a current UNO I.D. card.

Equipment for use in the HPER building or Fieldhouse can be checked out through the Central Issue Room (HPER 113) with presentation of a student card.

Raquetball and basketball courts can be reserved from Aug. 22 until Oct. 17. Reservations are based on a first come/first serve basis and all reservations must be made by telephone. Court reservations can be made by calling 554-3232 between 2-4 p.m. daily for reserving a court the next day.

The HPER building will be closed for the Labor Day weekend, Sept. 4-6.

Swinging into action . . . Susan Bobek, a junior majoring in marketing, takes advantage of the racquetball facilities at the HPER building.

Campus Rec offers family activities

Campus Recreation at UNO offers a number of events annually that are aimed at family-oriented recreation, and this fall is no exception. The department plans a series of special events open to all UNO students and a children's program for faculty members and their families.

The series opens with a miniature golf clinic at the Golf, Fencing and Archery Lab in Room 230 of the HPER Building. The two-day event is a crash course in playing better miniature golf. It begins Sept. 1 at 7 p.m.

On Sept. 10, the HPER Building will be the site of Campus Rec's annual Friday

Frolic, which is provided for families. The HPER Building will extend its usual hours of operation.

Other events this fall include a Walleyball tournament in October, a Turkey Trot in November, and a free throw contest in December.

The children's program begins Sept. 1 with a Zany Pet Show, which accepts real or stuffed pets as contestants. Other fall activities for children include a Frightening Fun party, a Pilgrim Pageant, and an International Holiday.

Admission to these family events is free with a student or faculty/staff identification card.
